
SAINT-ROMAIN

Combe-bazin

TERROIR

Surrounded by abrupt cliffs and rocky spur, the village of Saint-Romain is one of the fiefdoms of the Celtic and Gallo-Roman vineyards. This high-altitude village is split in two: Saint-Romain le Haut and Saint-Romain le Bas. It is a place full of picturesque charms.

Our white Saint-Romain comes from the plot "Combe Bazin", located in the valley below the village of Saint-Romain le Haut. These are old vines that flourish on soil rich in limestone, which is ideal for the expression of Chardonnay.

VINEYARD

The vineyard is cultivated organically with biodynamic preparations designed to encourage the life of the soil and its microbiological activity. The soil is worked, grass is grown in the winter and no chemical inputs are used in the treatments.

WINEMAKING

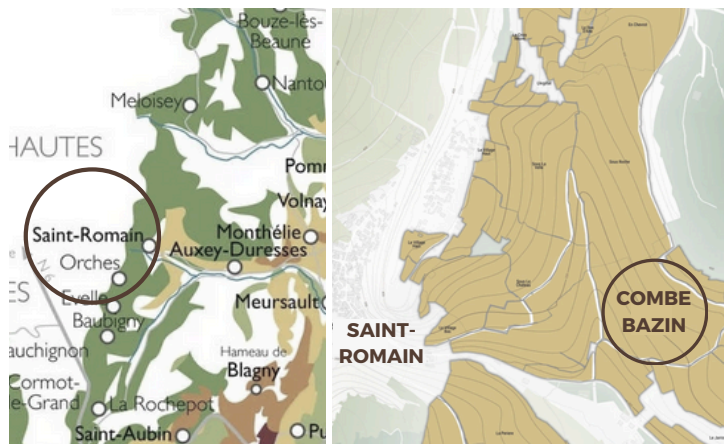

Hand-harvested. The grapes are sorted at the vineyard and then pressed slowly to enable the must to oxidise gently.

Fermentation in big oak barrels using wild yeasts only.

10% of new oak.

The wine is then aged for 12 months without stirring and racking.

Neither filtered nor fined.

Colour: White

Grape variety: Chardonnay

Area (ha): 0.54

Planting date: 1990

Soil: Clay and limestone

Altitude (m): 350

Exposure: South/ South-West

Density (vines/ha): 10,000

Ageing potential: 3 to 5 years

